

Great Gift Idea For Kids 8+

Are you looking for gift idea for kids? How about a gift to get your child engaged in something other than his video game or tablet? Thanks to KidsStuffPR for sending us this amazing Circuit Building Kit that is a great gift idea for Kids8+. A new company, Circuit Scribe, has invented a remarkable pen that writes with conductive silver ink to create a working circuit. Now novice third graders and experienced high schoolers can have fun with circuitry and electronics in a totally new way. All they need is a piece of paper and a Circuit Scribe pen! Here's a great video that will show you the magic and wow of how Circuit Scribe works. My 10-year-old was so thrilled with this kit and it kept him engaged for hours.

Typically on a weekend morning, my youngest like to watch cartoons. After getting the The Maker Kit \(\$79.99\) he could not rush downstairs fast enough to continue creating circuits. This Circuit maker kit is the gold standard to appreciate the magic of electronics. Kids can do this on their own or with some help from a parent.

The maker culture – learning-through-doing such as robotics, electronics and traditional metalworking or woodworking – is a hot topic in school hallways. Kids who classify as makers encompass every letter of STEM and STEAM and even STREAM learning! From hackers to DIYers, it's a national passion.

Great Gift Idea For Kids 8+

Boy or Girl this is a great gift that will keep your kids off their devices and into something great. Now my son wishes I got him the larger kit with a few more options. I love finding gifts that are engaging and educational. It will be a sad day when the pen runs out, however, you can buy a replacement for $20.

Just check out the intensity in his face as he gets a new circuit developed.

Buy your circuit kit now for less $$:

Use the code: HOME15, to save 15% off anything on the site at www.CircuitScribe.com through Nov. 21. Let the early holiday shopping commence!

Source: <http://stayingclosetohome.com/great-gift-idea-for-kids-8/>

