

SIERRA

Green Gifts That'll Get Kids to Explore, Enjoy, Protect, and Learn Sierra's holiday gift guide for the junior set

After scouring toy stores, game outlets, booksellers, and the internet for unique gifts that'll provide kids with some old-fashioned (i.e., screen-free) fun while challenging developing minds, we are pleased to present 10 of 2019's most Earth-conscious—and awesome—gifts for green-minded kids of all ages.

A recent NPR poll revealed that 80 percent of parents wish their kids were actively learning about climate change. Enter Adventerra Games, a collection of intricately designed board games ($25 each)—including WaterGame, Recycle Rally, PowerHaus (all ages 7+), and Global Warning (ages 10+, pictured), designed to help kids develop carbon-footprint-minimizing habits. The objectives, respectively, are to save maximal community water from a water monster, clean up a town overflowing with garbage, reduce energy waste, and keep the global warming index minimal. The winner? Why, the biggest planetary superhero, of course.

Source: <https://www.sierraclub.org/sierra/green-gifts-thatll-get-kids-explore-enjoy-protect-and-learn?mostpopular=true>